New Union
High School
Is Growing
Into Actuality

HAVE you noted the progress being made in the erection of the new high school plant? If not, it will be worth your while to visit it. It is located at Verdugo and Broadway, and will be completed in six weeks, according to an announcement made today by George Mitty of the North Pacific Construction company, to whom the contract was let the first part of this year.

Work has been carried on at a rapid rate on the new buildings, in order to bring them to completion in time for the fall term. Ground breaking for the new buildings was held on February 5, and since that time, there has been an almost ceaseless progress made on the construction.

THE science building, which is located on the side of the campus toward Eagle Rock, is already plastered, and is the nearest to completion. The practical arts building is showing the results of consistent work, and will be completed at about the same time as the science building.

Work on the auditorium, which is to have a seating capacity of 2750, was delayed for several weeks this spring, due to the lack of structural steel. This handicap has been overcome, however, at the present time, and construction on the auditorium will be finished about October 15.

AT the present rate of increase, the enrollment for next year in the high school grades is expected to reach 2500. The latest figure on enrollment up to the present date for the Glendale Union high school is 1935. Deducting the probable attendance from the Eagle Rock district, an increase of approximately 600 high school students can be figured upon due to the fact that the rate of increase last year was in excess of 40 per cent.

Though the work of the new plant has been rushed to completion, the builders have taken care that they build well, and the buildings in their present status, already give a note of stability and strength. Spanish renaissance style was chosen for Glendale's new school, serving as a reminder of the days long past, when the city of Glendale was only a mirage conjured forth by the imagination of some Spanish Don, as from the hill top, he visualized the great city, teeming with life and claiming the attention of all parts of the United States for its record of progress.

IF the construction is completed according to the schedule, a little more than three weeks will be provided for the installation of equipment. Some of the finest apparatus to be used in the science and practical arts buildings is to be procured, and Glendale high school students will be given the benefit of the most modern methods in performing actual experiments and in the manual training and cooking classes.

There are 24 rooms in the science building. Here will be taught chemistry, physics, physiology, hygiene and other sciences. An abundance of windows make each of the rooms in this building ideal class rooms where experiments can be made and lectures given.

In the practical arts building, there are 35 rooms. Here will be taught manual training, sewing, cooking, mechanical drawing, and crafts in a large variety of classes, and such additions as it will be possible to make, aided by the adequate quarters.

IN the connecting wing of the practical arts building there are 25 rooms, where such subjects as history, English, algebra, and all other academic subjects will be taught. These class rooms are adjacent to the auditorium. Some disappointment is expected to be aroused on the part of the students, learning that the auditorium will not be completed before the middle of October, but every possible aid is being given to the work in order to complete the construction as soon as possible.

When completed, close to $500,000 of the $600,000 bond issue will have been utilized in the construction cost, according to Mr. Mitty. Between 175 and 200 men have been employed constantly in the work.

THE auditorium occupies the main position in the main building which faces north on Broadway. The seating capacity of 2750 will take the entire attendance for the next few years, it is estimated, as at the present

Wood, Paul Edmonds, T. E. Ehrhart, G. E. Murphy, E. F. Grubb, Wilfred Gullick and O. C. Walton, and it is expected that others will join them. Parents' visiting day will be observed at the camp on July 6. They will be met with a launch at Avalon and will spend the afternoon and evening at camp. Mr. Kelley states that the camp is full now. However boys are signing up with David Black at the board of education headquarters and will take the places of any boys who should drop out. Mr. Kelley also states that all boys signing up will be taken over to the camp by him sometime this summer, probably on July 25. Dr. Anderson and Captain E. Z. Collins of Glendale will spend week-ends at the camp and will assist in the camp fire programs. Capt. Collins was with the 91st division in France and will tell the boys some of his experiences.

POUNDMASTER IS RE-APPOINTED TO JOB

E. Hobensack, who for some time filled the position of poundmaster for the city of Glendale, and who resigned a few days ago, has been re-appointed to that position by Chief Fraser.

MARY GIBBS IS AGAIN VISITOR TO GLENDAL

Mary Gibbs was in Glendale again last night. Nothing strange about this, however, as Mary is a frequent visitor to this city. She ran away from her home, 2207 Temple street, Los Angeles, several days ago, and was found at 11:40 o'clock last night at the corner of Maryland and Broadway. Officers Nunn, Hedrick and McLean had quite a time catching her. Her parents in Los Angeles were notified and at 1:20 o'clock this morning she started on the homeward trip.

LITTLE FELLOWS HAVE ITCHING FEET

At 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon Mike Mahone, Jr., 3 years old, of 336 West California, and Sambo Dalch, aged 7, ran away from home. They would have no more of the family ties. Nix the "apron string" stuff. Their absence was discovered and the fact was reported to the Glendale police. Sergeant Rove was detailed to find the missing wanderers. For an hour "W. J." worked diligently, following clue after clue, which finally led him to the blacksmith shop on East Wilson avenue, where the little ones were found, busily engaged in telling the proprietor how he should run his business. They were taken home.

GLENDAL PIONEER IS DEAD

Frank Clifton Follansbee
Is Stricken Suddenly and Dies Alone

WAS ILL OF ASTHMA

Felt End Approaching,
According to Entry on Old Diary

Frank Clifton Follansbee, 56 years old, of 512 Riverside drive, Glendale, was found dead at his home shortly before 7 o'clock this morning by his neighbor, D. P. McIver, 529 Riverside drive. Asthma is believed to have been the cause of death.

On order of the coroner, the body was taken to the Jewel City Undertaking parlors, Glendale. Papers left by the deceased show that he is survived by a cousin, Mrs. Emma A. Rogers of New Monterey, Calif., and also several relatives in Long Beach. Mr. Follansbee had been a resident of Glendale since 1905, having come to California in 1887.

According to a diary written by Mr. Follansbee, the deceased came to California in 1887 and made his first trip to Glendale in 1888. He came here to live in 1905, before the city was incorporated, and, states the diary, "I have never been sorry for coming here."

This diary is started with the following statement, which leads one to believe that death was expected:
"Old man, old man, sitting in the sun, tell us what you think, now that your race is run."

On the last page of the diary are the words:
"June 13—This is the end."

That the life of Mr. Follansbee was filled with illness and disappointment is shown by the following excerpts from the diary:
"I think I have been cheated in life. It has been altogether different from what I was led to expect."

"June 12—Another night of misery when I heard the clock strike every hour. Could not lie down on account of pain in my back and abdomen."

No arrangements have been made for the funeral. Whether or not a coroner's inquest will be held has not been ascertained.

LEARN THE WORDS OF THE "STAR SPANGLED BANNER"—HARDING

In Flag Day Speech the President Insists Americans
Should Be Able to Actually Sing the Words of the National Air

NINETY PER CENT ARE IGNORANT, HE SAYS

Advocating Reverence for Flag He Declares Citizens
Must Maintain Things It Stands for Unimpaired;
People Owe as Much to It as Soldiers

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Harding asked the American Legion's flag conference, opening here today, to adopt a code of rules and regulations for the proper display of the flag and to include a provision that every American citizen should learn to sing the national anthem. "While you are adopting a code whereby the citizenship of America may show due reverence to the flag," the president said in an address, "I would like you to go a step farther and insist upon Americans being able to sing 'The Star Spangled Banner.'"

"I have noted audiences singing—I should say trying to sing—the American national air, but outside of about two per cent they are only mumbling or pretending to sing. I would like to have the spirit of America show itself in song. I hope you will insist upon some suitable provision to that end in your code."

While advocating the exercise of proper reverence for the flag, the president said it would not be forgotten that American citizens have another obligation—"to maintain in America, unimpaired, the things for which the flag stands."

"I can understand how the flag means considerably more to the service men of the republic than it does to the ordinary citizen," the president said, "but I cannot understand why the soldier or the sailor or the service man in national defense should have more to the flag than anybody else in the United States of America, and so everything we do to bring the flag into proper consideration by the citizens of the republic is entirely commendable and deserves to be cordially endorsed."

"I have seen the flag raised abroad and I have wondered where I like it best. It is a beautiful picture in patriotic procession and pageant. It is an inspiration when it is unfurled over the American school house as a guarantee of the liberties and opportunities of the schooling youth of America. It is a wonderful picture over American official quarters abroad to the American who is hungry to see the flag of home and to feel his something somewhat emphasized. It has been a beautiful picture and the emblem of brotherhood and sympathy when it has been unfurled from the flagstaff of relief ships which have carried American bounty as an expression of our generosity to the suffering people of the world."

"In some way, I have concluded recently that about the dearest picture of the flag we shall not see it long—is when it is presented by the old veterans of the Civil war. You know, had it not been for them there would not be 48 stars glittering in the field of blue. I like to say, therefore, that somehow the flag appeals to me more strongly when it is presented by those who made this now invincible union a possibility."

MRS. SHERMAN IS SURPRISED BY ANXIETY

Resting in Sanitarium
After Injuries in Los Angeles

Mrs. J. H. Sherman of 341 West Broadway, whose apparent disappearance in Los Angeles alarmed her family here, telephoned late yesterday from a sanitarium in Los Angeles and a series of telephone mix-ups were discovered.

On arriving at Sixth and Hill streets, Los Angeles, Mrs. Sherman inquired, fell and was painfully injured. She immediately telephoned her husband in Glendale. While she was talking, explaining the accident, the line was disconnected. Supposing her family had received the full explanation she proceeded to the sanitarium she knew of for the assistance she required. There it was understood she had informed her family, and no action was taken to notify her husband. Until the story was printed in the newspapers she was unaware of the anxiety.

Mrs. Sherman will be at the sanitarium for several days longer, recovering from her injuries, which include severe sprains and bruises, beer found.

EXCHANGE CLUB HEARS FROM EYE EXPERT

Prof. Wall of Columbia University Tells of Care of Optics

BY W. L. TAYLOR

"The Exchange club at its noon luncheon yesterday at the Golden Spanish Cafe, 115 South Orange, had the pleasure of hearing a speaker of national renown in the person of Dr. Wall, head of the physics department in Columbia University. Dr. Wall is making a tour of the country in the interest of the conservation of eyesight movement and his address before the club was along this line.

"Better eyes and better vision is my mission to the Pacific Coast," said Dr. Wall in the beginning of a most interesting talk. A few years ago a man who had to wear glasses was considered a cripple and I believe there are laws on some of the statute books even to this day showing how ignorant people were about their eyes in the early days.

"As soon as a child is born we should begin to look after its eyesight. Many children are held back in school, their health ruined and their future destroyed by the neglect of parents in taking care of the children's eyes. In New York a few years ago statistics showed that 90 per cent of the people afflicted with poor eyesight was due to neglect of the eyes while young. Wonderful progress is being made by some of the eastern states in the conservation of eyesight, and in Massachusetts statistics show that there has not been a single case of blindness resulting from natural causes within the last five years.

"I have made many examinations in the schools," said Dr. Wall, "and I find there are a large percentage of the children who are suffering from defective eyesight who could be cured or relieved to a great extent. We find children who are making slow progress in school, for the sole reason that their eyes will not permit them to study. They become careless, uninterested and finally fail, and we falsely attribute their failure to a lack of mentality."

Dr. Wall told of many large manufacturing concerns who had increased their efficiency and even their output as much as 28 per cent by seeing to it that their employees were properly taken care of with glasses, etc. One large rubber concern which employs thousands of inspectors found in some of their factories that they were receiving many complaints for poor eyesight. Many orders were returned and the "make goods" were on the increase. Some one suggested that the eyes of the inspectors be examined. This was done and the inspectors where the most trouble had occurred were found to be suffering from defective eyes, wrong glasses and other troubles that could have easily been remedied if proper attention had been given them.

"Good eyesight is the result of nerve energy," said Dr. Wall, "and this energy is the most expensive kind with which the human body has to deal. There are hundreds, yes, thousands of automobile accidents caused daily because of defective eyes. A boy was run over and killed a few days ago in the eastern city. The man was arrested. He claimed he did not see the boy. The court ordered an examination of his eyes, and it was clearly proven that he could not have seen the boy ten feet away. And yet he was wearing glasses and was permitted to drive an automobile. There is less blindness in this country than anywhere in the world," said Dr. Wall, "and the reason for it is we are paying more attention to the children's eyes. I am a strong believer in the Chinese idea of keeping the subject well, not doctoring him after he is flat on his back. In some places the optometrists and others who sell glasses and look after the eyes, but I want to tell you the doctors will get more out of you when you get sick than if you are well. Have your children's eyes examined; in fact, have an examination made of their teeth and their bodies as well; it will pay you best in the long run, and you will be conferring the greatest blessing you could upon them," concluded Dr. Wall.

Continued applause was given when four $500 donations to the service fund for the two divisions up to the following: Reds, $2500; Blues, $500.

The new members secured thus far during the drive represents a valuation of $3,125, of which amount $1,533 has already been paid in. This is divided as follows: Reds, for memberships, $2,775; paid in, $733. Blues, for memberships, $5,350; paid in, $810.

In this morning's drive the Blues, captained by A. L. Baird, trimmed the Reds, captained by Ed N. Radeke, by a score of 3,860 to 1,900 points. It was easy going for the Blues, which, in turn, means that

The team captained by Don Webb was the high point winning aggregation Wednesday in the campaign for new members to the chamber of commerce, ten new members being secured by this bunch of workers. The number of members secured was 83, this bringing the total for the campaign to 143.

The Reds, captained by A. L. Baird, after being "licked" on Tuesday came back and trimmed the Blues, with Ed Radeke as captain, by a point score of 2393 1/2 to 2337 1/2. The money collected thus far in the campaign is $1,415.15.

The new members secured yesterday by the Reds totaled 48, while the Blues secured 35. Following is the score of the various Red captains:
H. L. Finlay, 1; T. W. Watson, 4; Don Webb, 10; Mr. Swearingin, 3; J. C. Smith, 5; S. W. Brown, 5; Val Hollister, 9; H. P. Kuhn, 3; Peter Ferry, 8.

The record of the Blue captains is as follows:

At the regular meeting of the Knights of Columbus held last night at the local clubhouse on East Lomita avenue with Grand Knight Harry Girard in charge, advice was received from the new state deputy, Frank Michels of Sacramento, that Fast Grand Knight Peter L. Ferry of Glendale had been appointed district deputy of the Glendale district, which comprises Glendale, Van Nuys and San Fernando. This recognition of Mr. Ferry's work here for the order and especially his work for the new clubhouse received the unanimous applause of the more than 125 knights present.

The business session was followed by an exhibition of Jiu-jitsu by Professor Kuhara and Professor Kato of Los Angeles. Two four-round exhibition, no-decision, boxing bouts created a good deal of excitement. Those participating in the first bout were Joe Komez and Mike Sullivan of the St. Joseph Athletic club of Los Angeles. In the second bout Joe Komez and Pat Mulcahey participated.

After the program refreshments of sandwiches, cakes and other "treats" were served.

FEDERATION OF P-T. A. HAS PICNIC

Installation of Officers
Held at Brookside
Park

COOPERATION ASKED

One Hundred and Fifty
Enjoy Annual Outing

By GERTRUDE GIBBS

It would be hard to find a more congenial crowd than the 150 women and an occasional man, who gathered at Brookside park, Thursday, for the annual picnic of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations.

As usual there was bountiful luncheon arranged by Mrs. S. Amos, her chief assistants being Mrs. Pierson Hanning, Mrs. R. C. Horner, Mrs. J. P. King, Mrs. A. H. Brown, Mrs. P. A. Olson, Mrs. J. W. Mair, all of whom were so busy serving the good things to eat, sandwiches, potato salad, pickles, jam, about fifteen kinds of cake, ice cream and coffee, that they rather lost out on their own lunches at the close of the delicious meal served at a long table under a palm thatched canopy, with the beautiful wooded hill behind them and the fair prospect of park meadows jeweled with pools, spread out before them.

The program was given on a platform to the left of a hillside and opened with the singing of America, and the Glendale song, "Start It With a Smile," led by Director Tucker of Community Service, the salute to the flag being led by Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the federation.

Mrs. Shelton Bissell, president of the first district of Parent-Teacher associations, was introduced and installed the presidents of the several associations with the kind of a speech that should inspire them to the best service of which they are capable. She said:

"You would not be asked by your friends to take up this work unless they felt it was worthy of your time, thought, your strength and your prayers. I hope no one intimidated you would not have anything to do, for each officer has her work and she must do it to make the wheels go around as they should. You will have times when you will feel that the world is a most beautiful place and you will feel that nothing is worth while and everything is going to the dogs. But keep that mood down. Your service is for the youth of our country and in the youth of our country is our hope. Because you are committed to this service, your strength will endure to the end."

She then presented the gavel to Mrs. Moore, who was elected federation president to succeed herself. The other officers of the individual associations and the heads of the federation departments of work were then installed by Mrs. Moore, who complimented each on her fitness for the work assigned her or on the good service of the past.

The presidents installed were: Mrs. Clark Johnson of Doran Street; Mrs. O. G. Thomson, Central Avenue; Mrs. L. D. Towner, Acacia; Mrs. C. R. Rethers, Broadway; Mrs. W. N. Small, Carritos; Mrs. C. H. Whitney, Ohio; Mrs. E. S. Phillips, Pacific; Mrs. Chas. J. Griffith, Magnolia; Mrs. Clarence B. Tedford, Columbus; Mrs. S. L. Gillan, Colorado; Mrs. Guy W. A. Thimmon, Grand View; Mrs. Harlow A. Thimmon, Wilson Avenue Intermediate; Mrs. Spradling, Glendale Avenue Intermediate.

Mrs. Mae Rosenberg was introduced as the auditor of the first district federation and therefore a member of the board under Mrs. Bissell.

Richardson D. White made a good speech in which he told some funny stories and quoted Irving Cobb who said the reason the Americans laugh more than the British is because the Americans have the British to laugh at. When he got to the serious part of his talk he said: "It has been my privilege to work with the P-T. A. of Glendale for ten years. During all that time I have been closely associated with its work and know what it has been doing. I can sincerely say the schools of Glendale would not be what they are today or have the reputation they enjoy, or maintain the efficient standard they do, without the P-T. A. (Applause). I have the privilege occasionally of meeting with other men of my profession and every time while some school superintendent of Los Angeles county says to me, 'What do you do out there in Glendale to produce the kind of a P-T. A. you have? You are getting to be a regular nuisance because the mothers of our schools keep coming to me and asking why they cannot have a P-T. A. organization like that of Glendale.'"

And there is but one explanation and that has been given you athletes.

ROBERT AYARS IS BOWLING FIRST TO SIGN FOR CAMP

Scout Executive Benner Busy Preparing for Arrowhead Outing

To Robert Ayars of Troop No. 3, Glendale, goes the honor of being the first scout to sign up on the 193 co-operative boy scout troop camp to be held near Lake Arrowhead from June 30 to July 30 inclusive. In addition to attending one of the ten-day troop camps "Bob" has made application for the patrol leaders' conference camp which is being held prior to the official opening of Camp Royl-Kent from June 27 to June 30.

It is predicted by the scoutmasters and other scout officials that this year's summer vacation camp will be the most popular camp which has ever been sponsored by the Verdugo Hills District Council. Scout Executive Harold Benner made a special trip to Camp Royl-Kent last week to put signs notifying the public that the grounds picked out for the campsite were being reserved for the boy scouts of the Verdugo Hills district. While at the camp Mr. Benner scouted around and found a great number of wild flowers in full bloom and also stumbled onto a snow plant which is one of the rarest and most beautiful of the mountain flowers. The streams were full of water and some fish were tempted from their peaceful abode in Deep Creek which is only a short hike from the camp. "At Lake Arrowhead," stated Mr. Benner, "we met several fishermen who had the limit of trout."

The camping committee, of which Frank C. Ayars is chairman, has prepared a very attractive camp folder of which more than four hundred have been placed in the hands of the scoutmasters for immediate mailing to the scouts in their troops.

The folder officially announces Camp Royl-Kent, telling of its location, advantages, and the kind of camp to be conducted. Utmost freedom will be given scoutmasters in the supervision of their troops. Several pictures taken of the campsite are included in the folder and one part is reserved for a personal word of assurance from the scoutmaster to parents.

The cost of the ten-day troop camp is only $12, which is 50 cents less than last year's camp. All scouts who are planning to go on this wonderful adventure trip of ten big active days among the pines near Lake Arrowhead should get in their application for a reservation at once as each camp is limited to fifty boys.

HI PIANO WORK WINS APPLAUSE

The parents, students, teachers and friends who assembled to enjoy the excellent program presented Wednesday afternoon as a recital by pupils of the piano section of the music department of Glendale high under the instruction of Miss Zeigler, were very much impressed with the demonstration of a fine balance maintained between technique and interpretation. All the performers gave evidence of good training and comprehension of the work they are doing. Following the program refreshments were served in the cafeteria of the school and a social half hour was enjoyed by pupils and patrons.

time the average daily attendance at the high school is 1400. The auditorium will offer a spacious balcony with seats for 1300. There is an exit from each aisle, and two side exits, toward the front of the building. The center section is fourteen seats wide the entire length of the auditorium, while the other sections range in width from 14 feet at the rear to two or more feet wide at the front.

The stage front opening is 45 feet wide, while the stage proper is 65 feet wide and 35 feet deep. At the sides of the stage are the dressing rooms. There is an 8 foot platform on the stage in front of the curtain. The height of the stage opening is 25 feet, while the height of the stage proper is 60 feet.

The administration department is located on the first floor at the west of the main entrance, and in front of the auditorium, while on the opposite side of the auditorium is a section comprising the board or faculty room and one class room. At evening concerts it will be possible by throwing a couple of gates, to keep the auditorium and the social section entirely free from the school portion of the building.

At the rear of the faculty and board room is the office of the business manager and supply rooms. Behind the administration department, running down the west side of the building, is the student body room, at the rear of which is the study hall, 32 by 75 feet, and behind this room are three music rooms and girls' rest rooms.

The cost of the ten-day troop camp is only $12, which is 50 cents less than last year's camp. All scouts who are planning to go on this wonderful adventure trip of ten big active days among the pines near Lake Arrowhead should get in their application for a reservation at once as each camp is limited to fifty boys.

FLAMES RAGE IN SAN PEDRO FISH MARKET TODAY

[By Associated Press] SAN PEDRO, June 14.—Flames raging through the locker rooms of the municipal fish market, water-front at Tenth street at 1:30 this morning destroyed thousands of fishing nets stored in the rear, and did damage to other equipment. Estimated loss was $30,000.

"BAVU" TO BE T. D. L. FILM FOR FRIDAY

Mystery of the deep-dyed variety is the keynote of "Bavu," the all-star Universal-Jewel special production which will be shown at the T. D. & L. Theater next Friday and Saturday. It is said that this picture outdoes anything in the mystery line that the screen has ever known, completely mystifying audiences.

The cast of such a picture might be ordinary and the offering would "get over" through sheer strength of the mystery appeal, but "Bavu" incidentally presents such famous artists as Wallace Beery, Estelle Taylor, Josef Swickard, Forrest Stanley, Sylvia Breamer, Martha Mattox, Nikolai de Ruz, Harry Carter, Jack Rollins and others. Stuart Paton directed them with the skill he displayed in "Reputation" and other Universal pictures.

"BAVU" A UNIVERSAL-JEWEL WITH AN ALL STAR CAST

CHARMING BATHING OUTFIT As charming as it is conservative is a bathing suit of brown taffeta. With it can be worn a cape and handana of printed silk in soft tones of fawn and brown.

GLENDALE'S OWN SONG SANG BY P. T. A. BODY

Director Ernest Tucker of Community Service Leads Singing.

With the Glendale song, "Start It With a Smile," to open and close its program at the annual picnic of its organization held Thursday at Brookside Park, Pasadena, the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations indicated the animating spirit of its members. It was sung to the tune of "Leave It With a Smile," and led with enthusiasm by Director Ernest Tucker of Community Service. He explained that the first verse was written by a San Diego Rotarian, but that the second and third verses, which are better, were composed by Superintendent Richardson D. White of this city. Slips bearing the words were distributed and they were sung with gusto as follows:

START IT WITH A SMILE

When it's time for meeting,
And the friendly greeting,
Start it with a smile,
What's the use of sighing,
Send all gloom a-flaying,
Start it with a smile.
While we're here together,
Always fair the weather,
Sunshine all the while;
Even song we sing just
Make the rafters ring and
Start it with a smile.
When it's Glendale calling,
Tho' the task's appalling,
Answer with a smile,
Glendale, ever forward,
Be our city's watchword,
Shout it with a smile,
Glendale's praise singing,
For the message winning,
"Glendale" all the while.
Thus our gladness voicing,
Sing it with rejoicing,
Sing it with a smile.
Cease your sad repining,
Glendale's sun is shining,
Raise your head and smile,
Glendale, wonder city,
Greet our gaze with beauty,
View it all and smile,
Lift a mighty chorus,
To the skies above us,
Sing all the while,
Cease to praise her never,
Sing her glory ever,
Sing it with a smile.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH FOOD SALE SATURDAY

The ladies of the Central Christian church will have charge of a home cooked food sale to be held all day Saturday at the Alice Marie art shop at 618 East Broadway.

FEDERATION OF GLENDALE P. T. A. YEARLY OUTING

by Mrs. Moore—"co-operation." That is what has given Glendale the right to claim to be the fastest growing city in America. That, I am sure, has brought about the kind of a federation Glendale has and has been the reason why this year's work has been accomplished without a discordant note.

"My work would be far harder, I would consider it almost impossible but for the fact that standing beside me in the work is the strongest parent-teacher organization I know anything about. I come to you today in the spirit of gratitude. I want to thank you for the loyal co-operation you have given me and for the support the Glendale schools have had from your organization."

Dr. Jessie Russell, who followed, and who is a past president of the state federation and now local chairman of legislation, expressed regret that she had not been able to keep in closer touch with the local federation of which she considered herself the grandmother, having been its first president. She congratulated the federation on the strength and vigor achieved after passing through the critical years of Glendale's growth and the world war, saying: "I congratulate you on the spirit you have shown, the enthusiasm you radiate and the type of personality you represent. I believe there is no limit to what you can do. You must have the spirit of co-operation with other organizations in working for the growth of your city and you must co-operate with other cities by sending big delegations to outside meetings when called upon to do so. There are three things to remember in your work: the spirit of co-operation with your teaching force, the spirit of co-operation with other civic organizations without subordinating your work to theirs, and third, the avoidance of partisan politics or allowing your organization to be made a stepping stone to something else."

Dr. Russell also strongly criticized a movement which she said was to muzzle the teachers of the public schools on matters of school welfare. She said: "If the teachers and school authorities are not to be allowed to voice opinions and give us the information we need, we might as well close our schools and our educational activities. We have a splendid teaching force in our city and they should be heard in matters concerning the common welfare. I am opposed to this movement to cripple the co-operation of the teaching force in school matters."

better lubrication at half the price

If you could get better lubrication with high-priced oils in return for the fancy price you pay, well enough—but the superiority of Zerolene in each of the following tests has been demonstrated repeatedly:

1. Zerolene follows closely the changing clearances of the moving engine parts; it maintains perfect piston seal always.
2. Zerolene absorbs less gasoline than other oils; it resists dilution and emulsification in the crankcase.
3. Zerolene forms less carbon; it cuts carbon removal operations from 25% to 50%.

The reason is this: Zerolene is produced from selected Western Naphthenic-Base Crude, and vacuum-distilled by the exclusive high-vacuum process developed by this Company.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less.

LA CRESCENTA ONE PIECE BATHING WOMEN'S CLUB SEATS OFFICERS

Reports of Officers Show Organization Is In Good Condition

LA CRESCENTA, June 14.—The members of the La Crescenta Women's club assembled at the La Crescenta hotel yesterday for luncheon and the closing meeting of the year. At two long tables beautifully decorated with garden flowers were seated seventy-six club members and the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. John S. McGroarty. Following the luncheon, short talks were made by Mrs. M. S. Collins, retiring president; Mrs. Viola Waddle, toastmistress; Mrs. Seymour Thomas and Mrs. Charles Turk.

Hospitality and the romantic history of Southern California was the topic of the talk given by Mr. McGroarty. A resume of the plays he has written was another enjoyable feature of his talk.

The singing of "America" by the entire club opened the business session which was followed by the installation of the following officers: Mrs. H. A. Haskins, president; Mrs. J. F. Martin, treasurer; Mrs. E. M. Mettleson, recording secretary; Mrs. P. H. Anderson, corresponding secretary; vice presidents, Mrs. M. S. Collins, Mrs. C. E. Culberson, Mrs. J. F. Erwin and Mrs. A. W. Brown.

Mrs. C. E. Culberson, retiring treasurer, reported $2249.45 in cash and $300 in liberty bonds as assets of the club. The committees appointed by Mrs. Haskins for the coming year were: Program, Mrs. Charles Turk, Mrs. H. R. Tripp; entertainment, Mrs. M. S. Collins, Mrs. H. S. Bissell, Mrs. T. S. Minford, Mrs. A. W. Brown, Mrs. C. E. Culberson, Mrs. A. Burkey, Mrs. M. B. Darrow, Mrs. E. M. Mettleson; auditing committee, Mrs. Geo. Dunlop, Mrs. Viola Waddle; emergency committee, Mrs. F. K. Czerniski, Mrs. P. O. Potts and Mrs. J. L. Hauber; reception, Mrs. M. S. Collins, Mrs. Seymour Thomas, Mrs. Charles Turk, Mrs. F. H. Anderson, Mrs. G. C. Peck, Mrs. F. K. Czerniski, Mrs. W. Turner and Mrs. Richard Dewey; membership, Mrs. B. Epokson, Mrs. Elmer Bennett, Miss Gertrude Drennen and Mrs. A. Alkon.

Informal talks made by Mrs. H. A. Haskins, newly elected president, and the retiring president, Mrs. M. S. Collins, were most impressive. Much credit for the success of the past club year has been due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Collins. Her suggestion that the club members interest themselves in community singing next year met with the hearty approval of all members present. The club prayer, led by Mrs. Turk, closed the most successful meeting since the organization of the La Crescenta Women's club.

"SUIT IS PASSING What Next? Is Query of the Nervous Ones

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of the United Press
(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, June 14.—No one can say "Oh Horrors!" when they look at the bathing beauties at the resorts this season. For behold! their costumes no longer consist of the slick-fitting one-piece suit. They are garbed in the most modest bathing attire that we have seen since the long-sleeved, long-stockinged era.

Perhaps we are witnessing a reversion from the "skin-tights" of previous seasons, when every woman, regardless of her physical charms, displayed herself before the public in a form-fitting bathing suit. Not one girl in one hundred really had good reason for wearing them and yet, regardless of the beach censors, they wore them as possible, rather than the only sensible costume for swimming. Many of them never got near the water than the board walks.

The beaches have never looked prettier than they do this season with groups of women garbed in colorful batiks, painted India linens and ruffled taffetas. Color ranges rampant. The idea this year seems to be to look as alluring as possible, rather than to dress as scantily as possible.

One imagines that the beach is covered with little girls in party frocks that are cut short at the knees until one discovers that they are merely short-skirted women in the smartest of bathing attire. Many of these suits are made of changeable taffetas, with long slender bodices and ruffled or tiered skirts. Others are made of bandana squares with bloomers of solid color matching the border of the bandana. India prints are used in the same manner. With the printed bathing costumes, bright colored shoes and caps are used carrying out the main color in the print.

Capes of cretonne and rubberized materials also add a degree of modesty to the beach costume. Only at the resorts which are frequented by the tenement dwellers does one see a display of figure this year.

The stocking question seems to be about equally divided this year, some women wearing half socks or no stockings whatever and others wearing long sheer stockings of tan, taupe or black.

Caps this year are absolutely captivating! There are those adorned with rubber trimmings, such as plumes, flowers and ribbons, which are so becoming. Then there are the tie-around turbans which are merely long strips of colored rubber which drape about the head and clasp over the brow with an Egyptian buckle or ornament.

Rubber scarfs in various color effects are among the popular accessories.

Gingham bathing suits made like children's rompers are worn by the younger girls to some extent. Often there is an accompanying sunbonnet of gingham to ward off the sun's rays.

LA CRESCENTA, June 14.—The Court of Honor of the Verdugo Hills district of the Boy Scouts of America, which will be held at La Crescenta school auditorium Sunday evening, June 17, has been particularly fortunate in securing John S. Captain Wattles, district chairman, will preside.

These meetings are an impressive sight and it is hoped that the parents of the boys of the district will be there in large numbers. C. W. Angier is scoutmaster of the local troop.

PURELY PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Prather, who have been house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wilson of 204 West Milford street for the past month, left yesterday by boat for San Francisco en route to their home in Excelsior Springs, Missouri. They will also visit in Denver, Colorado.

Miss Mary McDill of 1451 East Wilson avenue, who has just completed her school year at Occidental College, left Tuesday to attend a reunion of college girls who are employed at Adloner each summer, who are called the "Stuck-Ups." Miss McDill will remain at Adloner about two weeks.

Mrs. J. H. Seales of 1248 South Boynton street has had as her house guests her aunt, Mrs. Ben Rice, and cousin, Mrs. Norman Mayo and two children, from Douglas, Arizona, who are moving to the coast and will probably locate in Glendale or vicinity.

Ed Coker, of the Coker & Taylor plumbing establishment, and wife, will return the early part of next week from a ten days' automobile trip to Lake Tahoe. While there Mr. Coker is attending the plumbers' convention.

J. W. West of 1333 Valley View road will return the latter part of the week from a several days' business trip to Mojave and San Luis Obispo. He spent several days recently on a pleasure trip to Catalina Island.

JUNE ROMANCE

Two popular brides-to-be of Glendale were showered Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Central avenue Methodist church held at the parsonage.

The honored ones were Miss Mary Ostergard and Miss Muriel Bowen. Two tiny misses acted as cupid's agents and brought the presents into the room. Margaret and Bonnie Mitchell, dressed appropriately, wearing wings and carrying bows and arrows, performed this function.

Many beautiful gifts were presented to the brides' elect, after which delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The showers took place in the living rooms of the parsonage, which were appropriately decorated in ropes of greenery and flowers, with hearts and cupid's arrows interspersed.

Prior to the shower the regular business meeting was held.

ED N. RADKE IS 'GO-GETTER' IN DRIVE

"Blues" saw the bright side of the campaign and came out winners, securing a total of 1533 1-3 points, according to reports.

Mr. Radke, who is proprietor of the Gift Shop at 109 South Brand boulevard, was chosen to fill the post which was first designated for Postmaster Jackson. Due to his federal position, Mr. Jackson declined the position, and Mr. Radke was requested at the eleventh hour to take his place.

The eleventh hour proved to be a most gratifying success, for the "Blues" were the most successful in the first day of the drive.

A. L. Baird earned 1164 points as Radke's closest competitor.

THOMASES TO GIVE PARTY FOR CHURCH BUILDING BENEFIT

LA CRESCENTA, June 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas are planning a garden party at their hospitable home, "Cuddle Doon," on Thursday, June 28. The proceeds will be donated to the building fund of the Episcopal church—"St. Luke of the Mountains"—to be erected on Michigan and Rosemont avenues. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will be assisted by friends from Pasadena, Los Angeles, Tujunga and La Crescenta.

"LOVE IN THE DARK" AT THE GLENDALE

In "Love in the Dark," the new Metro photoplay which is being shown on the screen at the Glendale theatre today. Viola Dana has one of the most dramatic and exciting photoplays in which she has ever appeared. In fact, it is a combination of the various elements which have made this diminutive star one of the most vivacious, charming and talented screen actresses today. It has a bit of the appealing tenderness of "The Five Dollar Baby," something of the drama of "Seeing Believing," and the love interest of "The Fourteenth Lover." All in all, it is one of the most satisfying photoplays in which this charming star has yet been presented.

The story, which was written by John Moroso, tells of the adoption of an orphan by a woman who is a member of a gang of thieves. Her husband is afflicted with blindness during the day, and only at night can he see. She compels him to work with her accomplices. When the police track them down, "Tim" manages to escape. Mary the orphan—obtains a position with a kindly minister, whose son is being defrauded by an unscrupulous gambler. Mary obtains Tim's aid in exposing the crook who is causing her benefactor's son to steal, and she manages to put back the amount of money stolen without the father being aware of the son's guilt.

There are many unexpected turns in the drama, and the excitement keeps going at an even pitch. It is frequently relieved by scenes of sheer comedy, and the combination is irresistibly enjoyable.

Miss Dana as the orphan about whom revolves much of the play's story is at all times excellent. The role makes great demands on her skill in character portrayal and she manages to depict her tom-boy role with much human appeal. Her characterization is one of the most particular pride in telling his countrymen over there that he "would rather live in a hut in America than in the finest mansion in England." Mr. Pratt said that every American should be glad to know that there is no yoke about their necks, as there is about the necks of the working class in many of the foreign countries.

ICE IS NO LONGER LISTED AS LUXURY

American people are rapidly beginning to appreciate the value of ice as an absolute necessity not only for the preservation but preparation of many choice foods. This interesting contention figures as the basis of a feature article in a trade report recently issued by the National City Bank of New York.

Today as a practical result of advice given by food economists and health specialists, housekeepers are commencing to realize that ice should no longer be regarded as a warm weather luxury but as a very material everyday necessity. It is a well-known fact that when the home circle is gathered around the family table for dinner, more than one is looking forward to a delectable prepared dessert in place of rich, heavy pastries and puddings.

Frozen dishes, carefully prepared when served at regular intervals throughout the year are always wholesome. They not only look attractive but lend a certain satisfaction to the most exacting of epicurean tastes. And they're economical. There's only one secret about these dishes—keep plenty of ice in the refrigerator.

"DOLLAR DAY" IS ON AT PENDROY'S TOMORROW

Store Employees Hold Enthusiastic Meeting at Store Last Night

"We are planning a big dollar day sale for tomorrow, and from all indication we are going to have it," said Richard H. Smith, manager of Pendroy's.

"All through the house special prices are offered. In some of the departments we are offering special combinations of desirable articles for one dollar, and on the larger items, such as ready-to-wear, we are offering a reduction of one dollar on every five.

"In the shoe department special stress is being placed on the value of the dollar. We have made a reduction on several lines of high-class shoes, and then have gone still further in offering values. If a customer buys a pair of these shoes he may secure a second pair for one dollar."

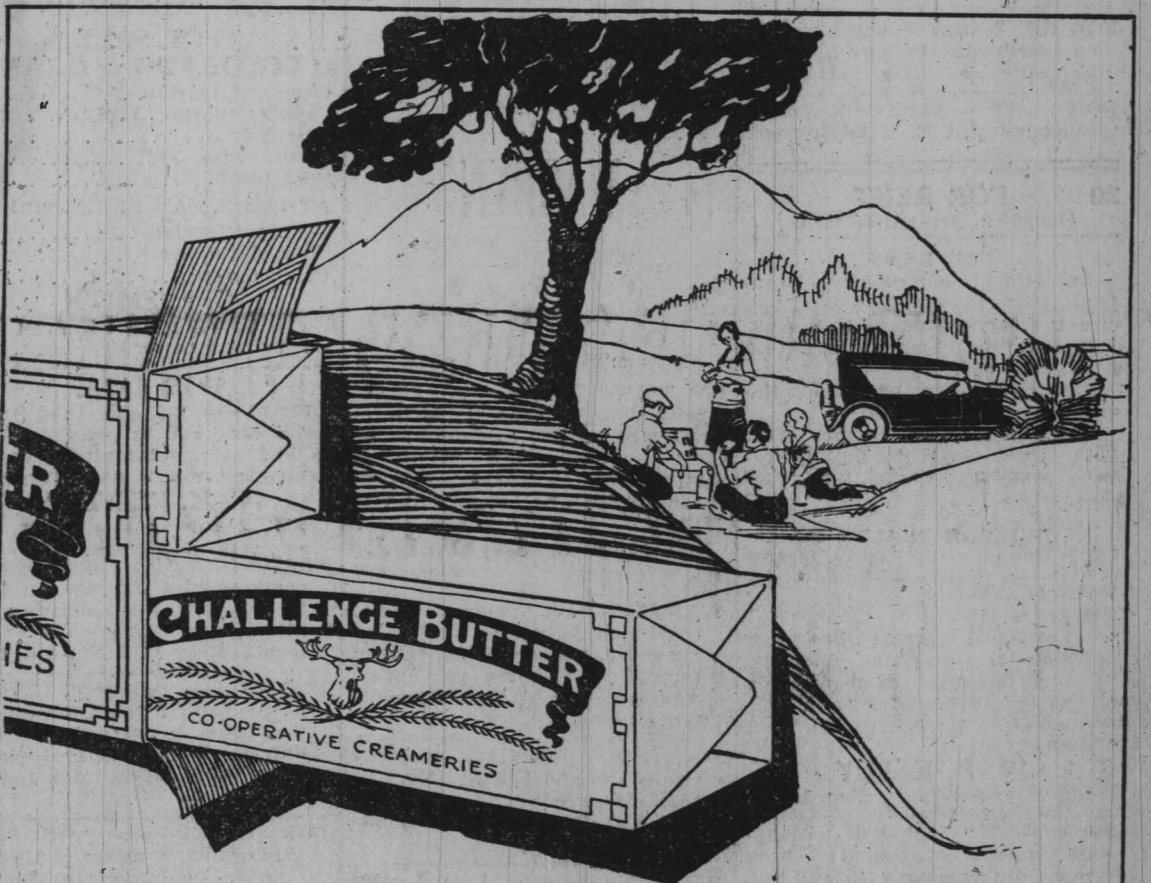

A large number of extra sales people have been secured for the special event, and every inducement is being offered to have a record number of customers in the store throughout the day.

Last night employees of Pendroy's met for a most interesting and important meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Pendroy were present, and Mr. Pendroy made a short talk on the relationship existing between the customer and the sales person. He stated that this relation should be the same as that existing between the host or hostess and the guest.

Mr. Thomas Pratt, one of the salesmen for Pendroy's, recounted a very interesting story of the conditions of employment existing in Europe. Mr. Pratt paid a visit to England in 1920, and told the other employees last night that he took particular pride in telling his countrymen over there that he "would rather live in a hut in America than in the finest mansion in England." Mr. Pratt said that every American should be glad to know that there is no yoke about their necks, as there is about the necks of the working class in many of the foreign countries.

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES SET FOR SUNDAY

LA CRESCENTA, June 14.—The annual children's day exercises of the Community church will be held at the school auditorium next Sunday morning. A splendid program has been prepared by the primary and junior departments consisting of drills and recitations. They will be assisted by a special choir of adult voices. The attendance of this organization has almost doubled in the past year, which is most gratifying to the officers and instructors. Rev. H. A. Kelso is expected home from the east Saturday, and will take an active part in the celebration of Children's day.

NEWS OF BURBANK

CITY TRUSTEES ARE PRAISED FOR FAIRNESS AND JUSTICE TO ALL PEOPLE AT ALL TIMES

Famous Proposed Ordinance 203, Street Work and Zoning Ordinances Are Discussed at Regular Weekly Meeting at City Hall

The famous proposed ordinance 203 was again up for consideration at the city council meeting Tuesday evening. Property owners near the site of the proposed cemetery were out in numbers to protest the establishment of the burial grounds adjacent to their land.

The city attorney was confined to his home on account of illness, so no action was taken and the second reading of the ordinance was postponed for another week, since the attorney had stated that it would be unconstitutional to pass such an ordinance.

President Crawford called for comments from any who wished to speak. Attorney McGary, owning 80 acres near the place, registered a vigorous protest against the cemetery, and claimed that the trustees had no legal right to pass such an ordinance.

Messrs. Lemcke, Stady, King and Nelswender spoke concerning the matter. Mr. Lemcke gave a very fine bouquet to the city council when he said he never knew any six men who could act any fairer or with more justice in any matter than the city trustees. He praised them for their courtesy, justice and fairness in the way they handle the interests of the people at all times.

Mayor Crawford thanked him and said that the council welcomed the attendance of the public at the regular weekly council meetings so that people can see for themselves how the work of the city is handled. If they would do this the misunderstandings that sometimes occur because people do not go to the source of things for information could be eliminated.

Mr. Stady, in stating his objections to the new cemetery, said that most of the people from that district drank water from wells, and that he felt that water that had passed through a cemetery would be unpalatable and unhealthy.

Attorney McGary said that it was becoming monotonous to land owners near Turkey Crossing not to have gas, water and paving, and now this proposition made things even more unpleasant.

Attorney McGary was reminded of the fact that no property owners in that district had given deeds to the city for roadways. There are no proper roads, north, south, east or west, in that territory. When you bring in a petition signed by land owners asking for street improvements, the city council will start proceedings the night you do so," was the mayor's promise.

Dr. Earl Wilson appeared before the city trustees asking their attendance in a body at the American Legion flag day ceremonies at 9:45 o'clock Thursday morning, at the Edison building.

The assessment map for improvements on Magnolia avenue between Eighth and Tenth streets was approved. A written request to establish an oil and gas station on the northeast corner of Providence and San Fernando boulevard was granted.

A petition to have street work done on Central avenue from San Fernando boulevard to the western limits of the city, signed by 24 citizens, was presented.

Seven fire plugs were ordered installed on Magnolia avenue.

Four maps for subdivisions which had been approved by the city planning commission were accepted and the deeds for streets and alleys were accepted.

The tentative zoning plans for Burbank suggested by the city planning commission were discussed and taken under advisement for further consideration. The commission suggested the boundaries for industrial, business, apartment and bungalow courts and residential districts.

G. E. Marygold was appointed deputy marshal, his work to begin June 13.

DALE ISSUES FOUR PERMITS

While four building permits for Burbank is not much of a record, at least there is the consolation that four every day will be something eventually. Wednesday, the building inspector, Elmer Dale, issued the following permits:

Roy Jackson, garage, $400
Harold Johnson, 574 N. Orange Grove Ave., 2,000
Alma Hoff, 427 Cypress avenue, 3,000
Paul Wollam, 465 Magnolia avenue, 3,000

BURBANK GLORIES IN FLAG DAY EXERCISES

Coming Citizens Honor Legacy of Puritan Fathers

Burbank took part today in flag day exercises given at the Edison school grounds by the school children, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts. Patriotic music, flag drills and military drill formed the program.

These days which bring to mind American traditions and customs are becoming more and more treasured by patriotic bodies since the influx of people from other countries has increased. Italians settling in colonies bring their customs and their ways of life into the United States. Japanese, Mexicans, Russians, Austrians, French, Slavs, Greeks and people born in all parts of the world bring their traditions to America and remind the country of the universal brotherhood of the world.

The individual personality of the United States is something that civilization wishes to cherish along with the brotherhood idea so that patriotic citizens of the United States glory in the days that are historic days of the country such as Flag Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July and Thanksgiving. For that reason all patriotic Burbank people took great pleasure in the simple exercises of this morning.

SEVENTY STUDENTS GET DIPLOMAS FRIDAY

Record Number to Pass First Educational Milestone Together

EAGLE ROCK, June 14.—Over seventy students will complete their elementary education on Friday evening in the Central school. Of these the majority will go higher for learning before facing life in earnest, and perhaps some will be forced out by circumstances to take their responsibilities of work without further training. But practically every one of the graduates has stated an intention and formulated plans to continue his schooling in the fall.

The class is the largest in the history of the school, and is divided into two sections. Of one of these, Annie E. Enman is class teacher; Lois Osborne, president; Juanita Arbogast, vice-president; and Richard Pickett, secretary. Of the other, Dorothy E. Johns is teacher; Armond Ober, president; Dean McCulloch, vice-president, and Ester Reese, secretary.

The classes have both shown up creditably in the life of the school and take away some splendid talent in all lines of activity and study. Following is a list of those who will receive diplomas tomorrow night:

PARKING CHANGE IS NOW UP FOR CONSIDERATION

Present Style of Parking at 45 Degree Angle Will Be Decided Upon

EAGLE ROCK, June 14.—Although no definite alteration has been planned yet, next week will probably bring about some discussion, and perhaps some changes, of the present parking system in Eagle Rock. The traffic authorities in Los Angeles will come out to look over the local style and conditions, and are considering putting a stop to the present custom of turning in the middle of the block, regardless of the section of the city. This practice, against the ordinance, has been indulged in by many residents, chiefly on Central avenue near Colorado, and through custom has become so common, that owing to the quiet traffic conditions here, no legal measures have been utilized to put a stop to it.

The local officers are on the lookout for those persons who are lax in giving the proper arm-signals when turning corners, especially when turning on to Central or Colorado. There has been a noticeable scarcity of those signals among local drivers and there will be a definite shut-down on all persons who fail to comply with the regulations. Officers who see them will at once call them on their negligence and they will have to answer in court for the offense.

Whether side-parking or the 45-degree angle is more satisfactory will be argued out, as compared with Eagle Rock conditions, and some definite changes may result.

CLASS PARTY IS NOISY GOOD TIME

EAGLE ROCK, June 14.—The graduating class had a riotous good time at the women's clubhouse Wednesday night, occasioned by the class party which, barring the possession of the diploma itself, is one of the most anticipated events attendant upon graduation. Games of all kinds were in order throughout the evening and there was no dampener on the spirits of the students. They frolicked and laughed and made quite as much noise as their exuberance over the conclusion of grammar school days demanded. The Virginia Reel occasioned great hilarity and every student went home feeling that the party had been a memorable event in every way.

EAGLE ROCK AUTO CAMP BEING IMPROVED

EAGLE ROCK, June 14.—Many improvements have been made at the Eagle Rock public auto camp on Myrtle avenue, and a number of others which will add to the conveniences and appearance of the camp are contemplated. The community kitchen will soon be enlarged. An army field stove, large enough to bake four or six chickens at once is being set up now. A shower bath will be completed in the near future.

On the Stanley avenue side of the camp a lattice work thatched with palm leaves has been constructed to shield tents and cars from the sun.

W. M. Winkler, assistant manager and caretaker of the camp, announces that all cabins have been filled throughout the winter, and that many letters are being received from persons who stayed there last summer, asking for reservations again this year. Mr. Winkler extends a special invitation to anyone interested in the camp ground to visit it. "Drive in on Acacia and out on Stanley, and if you have any kiddies stop at the big pond and let them see the little ducks," he says.

The camp is provided with refreshing spring water, and some persons spend months at a time there.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of useless treatment, that no one could be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished the sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenru, to others who took it, and what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenru with the understanding that if the first print bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return money without comment.

Truths in Epigram

Friendship is only a reciprocal conciliation of interests, and an exchange of good offices; it is a species of commerce out of which self-love always expects to gain something.—La Rochefoucauld.

The future is a world limited by ourselves; in it we discover only what concerns us and, sometimes, by chance, what interests those we love the most.—Materlinck.

BORING FROM WITHIN

District Attorney Keyes, just come into office, and naturally anxious as to first impressions, has been disappointed. He ordered a raid on a gambling house, and his men reached the place to find that knowledge of the plan had preceded them. In police parlance they "had been given a tip." This could not have been possible save that some attaché of the department had broken faith. Betrayal of the public for the benefit of the underworld is no new thing.

Certain subordinates of the sheriff of the same county are under indictment on serious charges. They are accused of having accepted bribes from prisoners, although later "double-crossing" the prisoners. That is to say they received money, according to the indictment, and for this they made no return in service. They appear to have deliberately bunked their victims.

When the authorities make war on criminals, it is essential that they clean out first the crooks they themselves have been harboring. Men sworn to uphold the law, and holding the confidence of their superiors, have been utterly false. This has resulted not only in scandal, but in the escape of rogues. Probably no one in the world believes the Phillips woman could have got away without the connivance of her official guardians.

The crook who holds a position that enables him to "bore from within" is worse and more dangerous than the crook outside. The latter never is to be dealt with effectually, until his pal, the treacherous confederate clothed with authority, spying for the underworld, has been caught, discredited and duly punished.

THE MOVING TRAIN

The railroad train is not dangerous while it moves along the track, and persons and objects keep off the track. If it leaves the track there is a smash. If it runs into something that gets in its way, disaster is certain.

There is small danger in boarding a standing train. To board one that has started is a hazardous proceeding. The brakeman learns to do it as part of the day's work. The average citizen has no right to make the essay. He might swing on and escape unscathed, but the attempt involves risks that he has no right to take. The loss of a few minutes intervening before the next train shall start, compared with life or even with limb, is a matter of the most trivial consequence. In a general way all this holds good as to reversal of the process. Leaping from a moving car is an experience fraught with peril. One does it and receives no hurt. Another does it only to be maimed or killed.

These are plain facts that it might be supposed everybody would know instinctively, but in the strangest fashion the truths attested daily in reports of accidents and in the mortuary lists, do not seem to make lasting impression, or indeed, any impression whatever.

The laden automobile still is driven in front of the rushing train, with the usual result. People still grab for the last rail of the departing car. They continue as ever to jump from a car, alighting possibly right in the path of traffic.

Nobody understands exactly why human beings perform such acts, but they do. The spectacle is rather sad to contemplate.

THE THREE R'S

A prominent superintendent of city schools has made a plea in behalf of the three "R's." Perhaps these studies have been neglected so long that the symbols may not be recognized as standing for "readin', ritin' and rithmetic."

The view expressed by the superintendent will win the instant support of the public. It is possible that pedagogues, committed to a different policy will object. In the interests of the youth of the land, the dissenting instructors should be over-ruled. The methods they advocate result from intellectual laziness. They think to have discovered a short-cut to knowledge, over which, with least effort, they may lead the pupil. But the pupil does not arrive; the knowledge is not acquired.

Early in the training of the pupil the mistake begins. The little one is permitted to neglect the alphabet. The wee boy or girl does not find out the purpose of the alphabet. It learns nothing of the office of letters, nor of the relation of the letters to each other. So far as able to read, it must recognize the words as being pictures, as to the component parts of the words they are ignorant. They conquer the art of reading while still unable to find a word in the dictionary. Thus they leave school after having had their essential training so neglected, that they are obliged to pick up haphazard, the simple facts that should have been imparted to them in infancy.

Many high school graduates of the present cannot write a letter comparable with the letter that a ten year old ought to be able to write. The fault lies not with them, but with the system. They have been denied the chance to be educated.

Perhaps these strictures do not apply equally to the teaching of mathematics, but the last is of far less importance. Ability to use English correctly should be the privilege of every American youngster. Through the theories of educators, so-called, this privilege has been withheld from some of them.

Money talks in any old language and never fails to make itself understood.

"SIMPLE INCIDENT"

The Stamboulisky government of Bulgaria was overthrown by a coup d'etat, the latter being not without many precedents in Europe. At times it has seemed that Europeans have made too little distinction between a coup d'etat and a coup de grace. The government that has just come into being (probably temporary) describes the process by which it arrived as "a simple incident in the life of the country." So this is what they call it when the gentlemen in authority are grasped by their several scruffs, and thrown out, by another set wishful of being in.

Bulgaria is not greatly beloved of the world in general. If the rule that it has acquired suddenly shall be better than the rules it has suffered under heretofore, it will be quite welcome to the benefit. Not that it especially deserves to be benefited, but that its continued discontent makes for disturbance generally. There was a time, but it was long ago, when Bulgaria was deemed to be a comparatively innocent sufferer on every occasion when "trouble in the Balkans," always talked about, became for a time a reality. But as the Bulgarian national character developed it failed to show qualities evoking affectionate regard. In the world war it measured its chances, and making a bad estimate of them, threw its weight to the side of Germany. That was an error of course, leaving it in the end without a friend in Europe.

The new government is perhaps to be congratulated. Maybe it will be able to solidify Bulgaria, and erect it into a real people. The probability, however, is that it will not have sufficient tenure to give its plans, whatever these may be, a thorough test.

BAIL AND RAPISTS

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Five men are charged with criminal assault of the most diabolical character on Astrea Jolley, a 14-year-old girl are out on $500 bail.

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

Four men charged with having flogged one of the accused on top of Mount Hollywood have been arrested and refused bail.

That is strange. Flogging is pretty severe, but it is a minor offense when compared with rape; still the rapist may enjoy bail which is denied men whose righteous indignation drove them to punish one whom they believed had violated every obligation of manhood and the most sacred rights of womanhood.

If public opinion accepts the comparative rating of the two offenses as indicated in the matter of bail, need the public be too greatly amazed when degenerates assume that rape is in the mind of the rank and file a venial sin?

Criminal assault should rank with murder as a non-bailable offense. When it does it may not be necessary for a band of well meaning men to take the execution of the law into their own hands as did the "Knights of Womanhood" who flogged Frank Sanceri on Mt. Hollywood.

There are many objections to mob law, the chief being that a mob can never be certain it has the right man.

Crimes against women and girls have become too common by far in this community. So grave is the situation that a mass meeting had to be called to Trinity Auditorium, Los Angeles, to devise ways and means for meeting the situation.

Being law-abiding citizens, the ministers who called this meeting declared themselves absolutely opposed to mob law.

Respecting their views, one must still call their attention to this: Men will not long endure a condition that can not be remedied by such legal machinery as is available; the "Knights of Womanhood" expresses in action what thousands of law-abiding men feel. Perhaps their methods were mistaken but their intentions were to protect women.

Moreover, they chose the one method of punishment that a rapist fears. A coward to the bottom of his black soul, and a degenerate respects one thing and one only, the comfort and integrity of his own belt. Threaten that and he goes straight.

Severe as it is, degrading, deplorable, the lash is still the one instrument of discipline that has power to deter men who assault women and girls.

And so, why not let them have it? If beyond every assault the assaulter saw the whipping post the assaults would promptly and materially decrease. Witness the effect of the whipping post for wife beaters in Delaware. All the world points at it the finger of scorn, but it remains and because it remains there is no wife beating in Delaware.

If Frank Sanceri is guilty as charged he got what he deserved; if innocent one can only regret that he selected such an incompetent guardian-angel.

However, that is written, something must be done to remove from this country the stigma which attaches to it because of such crimes as that committed against poor little Astrea Jolley.

And now a Los Angeles policeman is charged with a similar outrage.

Can any of us in honesty say there is no need for such an organization as "The Knights of Womanhood"? If it takes flogging to stop rape—why, stop rape. That is all.

Meantime, refuse bail to every man charged with criminal assault.

THE RIGHT WORD

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

A FREQUENT ERROR

(Find the error in this article)

M. W. has made an inquiry relative to one of those problems that often gives even well known writers considerable trouble.

Which one of the following forms is correct, and why, asks M. W.: "...one of those rare pictures that has a perfectly suitable title," or "...one of those rare pictures that have a perfectly suitable title?" Please give your authority for your decision.

The very should be plural have, because that refers to pictures, which is plural.

One authority, Kittredge and Farley, discuss the problem as follows: "This is one of the strangest sights that ever were seen. (The antecedent of that is sights (not one) ... accordingly, the verb is plural (were, not was)."

Yesterday's Error

Wrong: ... a singular, like it always is ...

Vocabulary

To mulct means to fine. Also, it means to fine unjustly.

Queries

Answer: To catch oneself doing this or that is an expression often heard.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

What you want to do is joy.
What you have to do is drudgery.
That is the difference between play and work.

JAMES W. FOLEY

In most instances.
Not in all.
Because no rule is applicable in all cases.
Exceptio probat regulum.

There are instances in which men have liked the things they had to do.
Made joy of them.
Took pride and pleasure in doing what we term chores.
Or duties.
But only the high and fine spirit takes pride in doing chores.
Most of us resent them.

Play is well beloved work.
For we use up more tissue and cell and energy in playing often than we do in work.
But here the mental element enters.
Makes joy out of labor.
As with the school boy in the ball game.

Nine innings, most of it work.

The using up of cell tissue.

Chasing balls.

Running bases.

Mental alertness.

All of it a kind of labor.

Yet it is labor seasoned with high spirit.

So it becomes play.

Well beloved work.

The high spirited individual takes no account of time.

Hours pass like minutes.

Labor is performed without thought of weariness.

Songs of the Poets

Scythe Song—By Andrew Lang

Mowers, weary and brown, and blithe,
What is the word methinks ye know,
Endless overword that the Scythe
Sings to the blades of the grass below?
Scythes that swing in the grass and clover,
Something still, they say as they pass;
What is the word that over and over,
Sing the scythes to the flowers and grass?

"Hush, ah hush," the Scythes are saying,
"Hush and heed not, and fall asleep;
Hush," they say to the grasses a-sleeping.
"Hush," they sing to the clover deep!
"Hush"—'tis the lullaby Time is singing—
"Hush, and heed not, for all things pass.
Hush, ah hush!" and the scythes are swinging
Over the clover, over the grass.

IS THE WORLD GROWING?

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THERE is a considerable number of apostles of unrest and protest who bark all night under the world's window their dismal cries that the world is growing worse.

Their particular complaint is against the successful everywhere. They love failures, adore drunks, prostitutes and slobs. They continually present these types to us in novels and upon the stage, and demand our sympathy with them.

One would gather from a deal of current literature that any business man who saves his money and sticks to his job and gains a competence is a miserable bourgeois wretch, and a hypocritical enemy to his race.

As a matter of fact, the rich men of today are a better class of people than were the rich men of any preceding age.

Ed Howe calls our attention to the largest of the pyramids in Egypt, built by an old king as a tomb, that his greatness might be advertised after his death.

This pyramid contains, he says, no less than 2,300,000 blocks of stone of an average weight of two and a half tons. The blocks must have been pulled and pushed up an inclined plane of earth, and it is calculated that it would take 100,000 men twenty years to build the pyramid, which was merely a tombstone to mark the grave of an ancient rich man.

Thousands of other tombs were built by the magnificent ones of the past. And millions of poor nameless wretches sweat out their unhappy lives to construct them.

In the present age rich men are doing more to improve the condition of the common mass of people than the favored ones at any other time have done.

In England the rich men are being so heavily taxed that they are no longer able to maintain their great estates, and are selling out.

In the United States, wealthy men are taxed 60 per cent or 70 per cent of their income.

John D. Rockefeller, who has been called the richest man in the world, is probably doing more good to the human race through his educational foundations and his institutions for removing the causes of disease than any man that ever lived, that is, any man that used money.

The poor and not the rich dominate the congress and the senate of the United States and the parliament of England.

The poor and not the rich have brought Russia to rack and ruin.

We are living in the days

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

When Captain Plummer of the Los Angeles police force faced a hissing audience of church people, he performed a brave act. He told them the truth. They were not prepared to receive it, but he made them listen. He had faced a hissing audience of I. W. W. only a few days before.

There is no disagreement on the point that crime in Los Angeles has reached an appalling volume, and that it must be checked. That it is to be checked by a move under the leadership of men craving publicity, who profess to be good, and to be pledged to make everybody else accept arbitrary standards, and be likewise good, may perhaps be questioned without offense to any sincere reformer. This is a situation to be dealt with by a sane and normal citizenship.

That a large part of the fault lies with a certain class of lawyers often has been pointed out in these columns. Captain Plummer, speaking with more authority, pointed to the same obvious truth. That such lawyers exist, is no reflection upon the respected members of the calling. The parasitical creatures who cling to the edges of it, preying alike on society and on clients, are a class apart. They have nothing in common with the real lawyer.

The tricksters mentioned have so wormed their way into the criminal courts as to have made the punishment of crime virtually impossible. To what extent they might be judicially controlled, the layman may not undertake to say. The sorry fact is that they mould and direct the activities of the courts.

These men have access to the jails. There also their influence is manifest. Morally they are no whit superior to the most depraved of their clients. It is natural to assume that they corrupt jail attaches. Somebody does, and nobody else has equal opportunity.

The crowd that hissed Captain Plummer demanded the discharge of Chief Oaks. In other words, it demanded that a police force that for the first time in years has a real executive head, be disorganized, while one of the crowd's choice be given it to play with. The plan is interesting enough, but far from ideal. The future chief would be unable to dictate to the courts. While the backing of the courts is withheld, as at present, he will be powerless to do more than arrest the criminal, later to be laughed at both by the criminal and the criminal's legal pal.

The excellent people, who with pure and lofty intent, hissed Captain Plummer, were less logical than the I. W. W. band hissing him at the waterfront.

A circular from a school of journalism requests information as to the distinction between publicity and propaganda. Publicity is legitimate usually. It is the setting forth of interesting facts. Propaganda and propaganda may be combined as often is done by the skillful writer of advertisements.

Propaganda, as a sinister influence, may be set forth ostensibly as news. For example, Norman Hapgood is sending soviet propaganda from Russia, and Lincoln Steffens is peddling similar stuff for the inspiration of the parlor pink. William Bayard Hale, as correspondent at Berlin in the late war, was dabbling German propaganda.

People interested in the starving folk of the Near East let the world know of conditions there. This is both propaganda and publicity, and no fault is to be found with the method.

A couple in this community after fifty-four years of married life assert that they never had a quarrel. Is it not possible that memory is at fault?

That two could live in the most intimate association for more than half a century and neither provoke the other to angry retort, would argue a humdrum existence.

The claim is by no means novel. A husband has been heard to boast that he never had spoken a cross word to his wife, or she to him, the solemn truth being that he seldom spoke any other sort of word to her, that she dared not respond in kind.

A Santa Barbara youth was saved by a girl from drowning and now they are to be married. This is reversal of the usual form, the male usually snatching the bride-to-be back from a watery grave.

Connecticut is laughing at New York now. The nutmeg state has been from the first intolerant of prohibition. Yet when the amendment was adopted Connecticut admitted that it was part of the constitution. It does not believe itself capable of annulling the effect of it, and so it laughs at the efforts of New York in such direction.

Pierre Loti, among the most charming of writers, was less well known to American readers than he should have been. To devotees of the prevailing school of letters, he was hardly more than a name.

This is the view that Germany so far seems quite incapable of grasping.

Accosted by two strangers, a Long Beach man visiting Los Angeles was asked to take a drink. The unsuspecting soul, gladdened by the evidence of friendship, drank deep and went to sleep.

The point of the story is that when he awakened, the friends, the gladness and a $100 bill had departed.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

The Lady Wife is completely surrounded by sensitive relatives. Their feelings are continually being hurt. Whenever that happens they try to hurt Mrs. Pilgrim's and they often succeed, because they have become expert at it. The rule of action seems to be something like this:

Sister Lulu: "I'm hurt. I'm deeply hurt. Mrs. Margaret Whops met me the other day and told me that you have a new dress. Have you no regard for your sister at all that she must hear important news of this sort through comparative strangers? And if you do not care for me—sniff, sniff—sniff—I should think you would be too Proud." With a rising wail.

Explanations by Mrs. Pilgrim, going to show that she had intended to telephone Sister Lulu; that she had planned to write Sister Lulu; that she had expected to call on Sister Lulu; that it didn't make any difference anyhow; and that she hasn't got a new dress.

Sister Lulu: "I do not wonder you cannot get along with that husband of yours. He is fat and I am told he drinks."

Then the fat is in the fire and the Pilgrim family by marriage is as divided as the Red Sea that time the Israelites marched through. By and by the sisters make up and weep bitterly. Then something else happens. Meanwhile I have been forced by circumstances to take up a position of vicious and snappish aloofness. I avoid Sister Lulu and all her works. I refuse to listen to the story of how Sister Lulu has had her feelings hurt again. I do not care, abatable littleness of spirit. What's the use of taking offense unprofitably if she will entrust them to me.

Maybe I'm as wrong as I usually am. But it seems to me that this extraordinary sensiveness is a proof of an essential and unabatable littleness of spirit. What's the use of taking offense unless the other fellow wishes to give it? Sometimes not then.

SPOILING BOXERS WITH LARGE PURSES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

Tex Rickard is beginning to get a back-fire from the bad habits he gave the big boxers when he took over Madison Square Garden.

His generosity in giving huge purses made all the boxers reap-praise themselves and add a couple of ciphers to their old rate.

Rickard complains that he now has to offer a fortune to get second raters in the ring and that the champions will not fight for any amount if they are called upon to risk their titles.

Jess Willard and Luis Firpo both gave Rickard a nice throw-down recently, but from his experience with a certain element of the boxing crowd, he should have expected nothing better.

Rickard put Willard in the way of a lot of money when he staged the Dempsey-Willard fight, and later when Willard was trying to come back for more money Rickard helped him to get around the "age limit" rule of the boxing commission by getting him into a charity show.

Perhaps Rickard thought that he might be compensated for his part in arranging the Willard-Johnson fight by getting Willard steamed up into a card for another big fight.

The opportunity for such was offered in a bout against Firpo, and Willard turned around and demanded 40 per cent of the gate receipts.

Firpo was indebted to Rickard even more, because Rickard brought him along when all the other promoters were giving the South American the grand go-by. Firpo was brought along to a real money fight with Willard, and then Firpo demanded 40 per cent of the receipts. If Rickard had agreed to his terms he would have had 20 per cent for his end, and it takes about 15 per cent to stage a big match.

Rickard made such a big splurge that he saw his business grow out of Madison Square Garden. With the limited seating capacity in the Garden it became impossible to pay the champions and near-champions the money they wanted and, with competition springing up against him from the baseball parks, Rickard had to give up the Garden and set about to build a big new arena for winter sports. Wise old fellows in the business said that Rickard was making a mistake when he was giving the boxers so much money, and they predicted, make the "eggs" all rich and lose his own shirt.

Some idea of the valuation that boxers are putting on themselves was gotten when Firpo replied to promoters who wanted to match him with Erminio Spalla, the European heavyweight champion, that he would accept the match for $100,000 in "American gold."

Firpo's avarice and greed for money are getting him in bad with the New York fans. No one can blame the South American for trying to get all the money he can, but he should not try to squeeze it out of his benefactors.

Jimmy DeForest, who was making a great fighter out of him, has almost given him up as hopeless, and if Firpo doesn't stick with DeForest he never will make the most of the opportunities that are presented for him.

Rickard had ten big championship fights planned for the summer season, and so far has cinched one of them. He is despairing of the others.

450 TO ATTEND COAST AD MEET

SPOKANE, Wash., June 14—Four hundred and fifty advertising men from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, California, Montana, British Columbia and Hawaii are expected here June 17 to 21 for the 1923 convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs association, according to T. M. R. Keane of Spokane, president.

Lou Holland of Kansas City, Mo., president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, C. J. Blanchard of the department of the interior, and Theodore Hardee, director of the western savings division of the treasury department, are among the seventeen outstanding speakers, many of them nationally known, on the program. This will be the first time that the national president has ever attended a Pacific Coast district convention.

A new basis of affiliation with the International association, giving greater national recognition to each of the twenty-two member clubs of the Pacific association, is one of the objects to be sought at the Spokane convention, according to President Keane.

Each convention day will have a particular theme, guiding the speeches and business undertakings. The first day's theme will be: "What comes before, with and after advertising?" "The creation of higher standards of advertising," "The better business bureau and its work," and "The problems in retail advertising and selling," are the subjects for the other three days.

Entertainment is planned, including a reception and dance at the $30,000 Elks temple. The delegates will be guests of the Spokane newspapers at lunch each noon. The doors of the leading theaters of the city will be thrown open to them, and all courtesies will be extended by the local golf and country clubs.

Other speakers for the general sessions, to be held in the forenoons, are: Bert Butterworth, Los Angeles, "The Value of Visual Advertising";

GLENDALE CADET RETURNS WITH HIGH HONORS

A. Laurence Smith Makes Fine Military School Record

At the commencement exercises of the Pasadena Military Academy, Arthur Laurence Smith, a former student of the Glendale schools, and well known to many of the local "high" students, closed his term in the Pasadena academy with a record reflecting both credit and distinction upon himself.

During the past year Cadet Smith was appointed first lieutenant on the non-commissioned officer's staff for his excellent standing in military work. In the selection of the cadet to be awarded the academy annual character cup for general merit in all qualifications, he was chosen by the student body among the six for final consideration, and was only eliminated after several ballots which were necessary to determine the matter, the result being reached after it had been admitted that honors were indeed so close that it was difficult to differentiate. In the contest for the annual scholarship medal, Cadet Smith was third highest from the entire student body in percentage rating, which included the carrying of one more solid study than any of his competitors.

In the closing exercises, last evening, attended by an audience which filled the academy auditorium to overflowing, Cadet Smith delivered the valedictory address, "Our Civilization," which was pronounced by the academy staff to be the finest student oration in the history of the school. Within a few days, Cadet Smith will leave for an extended vacation trip to Huntington lake or the North Pacific coast section. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Deane Smith of North Kenwood street. Mr. Smith has for a number of years been advertising manager of Barker Bros., and is widely known as one of the foremost publicity men in the United States, in his line. The family have been residents of Glendale for the past 12 years.

"Indeed," said Jones, as he and his friend rode home together, "I see by this paper that they have dug up a Babylonian tablet, that had been buried for 2000 years." "Nothing new about that," commented Brown, "my doctor gives me that wind every day for indigestion."

Foley's Friendly Fancies

JAMES W. FOLEY

NOBLESSE OBLIGE

Tell me no sordid story
Of evil and hateful deed,
Of a crime that was mad and gory,
Out of jealousy, lust or greed.
Tell me no tale of sadness,
When the light of a soul was hid,
But tell me with joy and gladness
Of a good thing somebody did.

Tell me a story that thrills me,
Of love in the hearts of men;
With courage anew that fills me,
And tell me the tale again.
Tell me the gladdest story
Of a good man's deeds you know,
For the heart of me needs that glory
To bid it go forth and sow.

To bid it go forth and scatter
The seeds of a like deed kind;
Bring me no idle chatter
And chaff of a little mind.
But think of the thing that's sweetest
In a human heart you see,
And then with the speed that's fleetest
Bring that good thing to me.

Yes, tell me some thing to fire me
With the heart of a purpose high;
A tale that will inspire me,
A story to light the eye
With newer and richer spirit,
A noble deed to bid
My soul reach glory, or near it,
Some good thing somebody did!

AIM OF SCHOOL

[By Associated Press]

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., June 14.—The American School Citizenship league, which will hold its convention here in connection with the National Education association, July 1-6, will have a joint meeting with the National Council of Administrative Women in Education, according to an announcement received here from the league's headquarters in Boston, Mass.

The objects of the American School Citizenship league, it is announced, are as follows:

1. To formulate a definition of American citizenship which may be adopted by the National Education association, and the American School Citizenship league. The principal elements to be included in the definition are: citizenship is a growth, a child is a citizen; a citizen has simultaneous duties relating to the home, community, city or town, state nation and foreign affairs; citizenship is action, good citizenship is governed by ideals.

2. To propose plans for stimulating the teaching of American citizenship. The welfare of the nation depends upon the teaching of citizenship in such manner as to develop a high purpose to act the role of a good citizen.

3. To make a list of existing books on the teachings of citizenship.

Elwood Gas Appliance Co., Announces Satisfactory Progress

After conducting business in Glendale for the past six months the Elwood Gas Appliance Company of 227 East Broadway, announces that a most satisfactory record can be shown.

"Not one day has passed since our store was opened," said Mr. Elwood, "that we have not placed an Occidental gas range in some home in Glendale. Conditions are particularly encouraging at the present time and show that Glendale is enjoying a steady growth and development."

"The Occidental range possesses so many practical features both for money saving and time saving, that it is not a difficult range to sell. We find that our customers are more than pleased with the service these ranges give."

WILL KILL OFF WILD DOG HOST

[By Associated Press]

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 14.—Extermination in Utah at the prairie dog, a small burrowing rodent that lives in communities on the prairies is advocated by local officers of the United States biological survey. It is estimated that 1,000,000 acres of state and federal land are overrun with these pests, and should they be completely wiped out, sheep and cattle men would be benefitted to the extent of about $2,000,000 annually.

ship. Citations from the various courses in citizenship which contain material and plans for teaching the ideals involved in the definition adopted by this committee.

The thousands of educators from all over the world who attend the annual meetings of the World Conference on Education and the N. E. A. have been assured of an opportunity to inspect a representative American battleship and see first hand educational methods as exemplified in the United States navy, it has been announced. The commander in chief has assigned the U. S. S. California to be stationed in San Francisco bay during the period of June 23 to July 6, in order that the world's educators may make a thorough study of navy educational methods.

COAL DRILL WORKING

[By Associated Press]

FALLON, Nev., June 14.—Government permits have been received, machinery installed, and drilling started in Lee canyon, 33 miles northeast of here, where a local company is prospecting for coal on 1,280 acres of land. A ledge three feet thick of what is said to be a fair quality of lignite coal has been found, and it is expected that a thicker vein of better quality will be reached at a greater depth.
